

Mark Ritchie's career in commercial real estate finance spans 30 years. Based in Los Angeles, he is a Principal of Gantry, Inc. (FMA Newmark Realty Capital). Gantry is the largest independent mortgage banking firm in the US; managing a portfolio of $18 BB in various debt/equity instruments for over 40 institutional capital sources, including several billion in government leased projects.

Mark is a member of The Urban Land Institute and International Council of Shopping Centers and has spoken on real estate finance topics for these organizations. He is past President and Co-founder of UCLA REAG, a Ziman Associate at the UCLA Ziman Center for Real Estate and has been a guest lecturer at the UCLA Anderson School of Management.

Mark is on the Board of Governors of the Commercial Real Estate Finance Council and a Board Member of the National Federal Development Association.